

TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE

And so my race is over. I have valued you all and tried as best I could, to stand for what was right and honorable. I have treasured those of you who were my friends and lifted me up when I was down and stayed the course when the going was difficult. The only advice I can bestow is that which was given me long ago...to persevere in adversity with kindness and compassion. Now, the one who judges us all will judge me. For those who never really knew me, I bequeath the legacy on this final video which will only consume four minutes of your time,
